In Line of Duty

John H. Murphy

Policeman

Appointed February 1, 1924

Died January 7, 1932

While on "stake out" at night, Officer Murphy contracted a heavy cold which later developed into chronic pulmonary tuberculosis. He was given an indefinite leave of absence to obtain proper rest and treatment but died at Veterans' Hospital, Tucson, Arizona, on the above date.

Hugh A. Crowley

Policeman

Appointed August 15, 1922

Died January 11, 1932

Officer Crowley was attached to the Police Theatre Detail. He was shot and killed when he interrupted two bandits—Jack D. Green and James F. Regan—who were in the act of robbing the safe of the Fox Westwood Village Theatre. Before he died, Crowley severely wounded Regan, one of the bandits. Both bandits escaped but were later apprehended and sentenced to hang.

Paul Donath

Policeman

Appointed June 21, 1922

Died April 28, 1932

On April 28, Officer Donath, in answering a radio call concerning a neighborhood shooting, was shot and killed by a dope-crazed woman. It was only after a squad of officers had surrounded the house and had thrown several gas bombs that the woman was driven into the open, but shooting her way. Officers, to protect their own lives, were forced to shoot her.

Executive Office

Los Angeles Police Department
Board of Police Commissioners

June 30, 1932.

Honorable John C. Porter,
Mayor, Los Angeles, California.

Dear Sir:

The Board of Police Commissioners herewith submits for your consideration a report for the fiscal year July, 1931 to June, 1932.

The past year's activities as reported by the Chief of Police to this Board are outstanding in the achievement of important and necessary objectives. The splendid work done by the Police Department in this era of economic instability and social unrest which always entail added duties and difficult situations is regarded by this Board as establishing a new standard.

The harmonious conformity in our entire organization has had a decided effect on the efficient solution of the many and hazardous problems that confront a metropolitan police department. The Board desires to commend and to extend highest regards to Chief R. E. Steckel and his capable staff for their contribution to this remarkable situation, and also to commend the entire department for its loyalty and excellent work.

The members of the Police Commission realize that the present Administration with its principles and high ideals has created an incentive and stimulus to this Board enabling it to be of constructive service to this efficient police department and to this great city.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCIS DRAKE, President;
EDGAR T. WEHN, Vice-President;
KATE SMITH,
THOMAS WALKUP.

DEPARTMENT OF POLICE
CITY OF LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

June 30, 1932.

Board of Police Commissioners,
City of Los Angeles,
Los Angeles, California.

Honorable Members:

The Annual Report of the Los Angeles Police Department as required by Charter Amendment for the fiscal year ending June, 30, 1932, is respectfully submitted:

IMPROVEMENTS:

December 16, 1931, witnessed the completion and formal opening of the new City Jail in Lincoln Heights Division, which brought relief to a situation tolerated for many years. Today, we find praise for the manner in which prisoners are cared for instead of the usual shower of criticism annually received.

The establishing of a division of the Municipal Court within the jail building has reduced to the minimum the danger and expense formerly placed upon this Department through transporting prisoners to court. The holding of night sessions in this court has greatly benefited a certain class of prisoners as well as assisted us in our jailing problem.

On December 7, 1931, we were privileged to open to departmental use the new Lincoln Heights station, thereby providing another modern building to properly house the personnel and to improve the efficiency of that Division.

The past fiscal year brought added improvements in the Communication Division and especially in the operation of the radio. This Department is now broadcasting for the Los Angeles Sheriff's office, for the cities of Beverly Hills, Alhambra, Santa Monica, Culver City, San Fernando, Hermosa Beach, Huntington Park, Burbank, Glendale, La Habra, Moorpark, San Clemente, as well as the Sheriff's office of Orange County. By doing so we eliminate what might otherwise result in great confusion. Having all these cities tuned in to receive our broadcasts, gives us added strength to compete against the criminal who attempts to flee from the City of Los Angeles after the commission of an offense.

For the splendid work produced by the radio patrol cars you need only refer to another part of this Annual Report for more complete information.

Through the appointment of a departmental physician, who annually examines each member of the Department, great results are expected. That opinion was reached after some 650 members were examined and medically advised. I hope to see a great saving in man-power formerly lost by the Department through illness of members. This will by far compensate the cost of maintaining this new addition to our personnel.

The new City Hall in Van Nuys is nearing completion at this time. Sufficient space is to be provided for our Van Nuys police personnel as well as a branch of the Municipal Court which will greatly assist in meeting the demands of that growing district.

The sum of $9000 was appropriated to improve the old Central Police Station at First and Hill Streets. More suitable quarters will be given over for the scientific and beneficial work carried on by our Crime Investigation Laboratory.

Motor transportation provided for all field sergeants has more than justified such an arrangement. The results, too, of the appointment of six inspectors of police and of detectives have been very marked, showing greater supervision over the entire personnel of the Department. Much might also be said of the improvement in personnel records since the change in keeping a more accurate record of members' qualifications and merits.

I am proud to report the splendid improvement in the Elysian Park Pistol Range, made possible through the honor bestowed upon us by the Xth Olympiad Committee in choosing that spot and preparing the range for the Olympic contests to be held there in August of this year. There is no doubt but what this is now the finest police pistol range in the entire United States.

Great strides were made during the year in our Police School. Not only were the subjects taught of an advanced nature over the previous year but a greater degree of interest was evidenced through the grades made by our officers.

At this writing a job analysis is being conducted by executive officers of the Department and a representative of the State Bureau of Adult Education which will greatly assist us in our future school work. Twenty executives of our organization just recently completed a 30-hour teacher-training course which was conducted by special adult instructors from U. C. L. A. The purpose of it was to prepare them as teachers for the more practicable police subjects to be included in next semester's schedule.

URGENT NEEDS:

The fiscal year just closed and the one now confronting us have served to teach all of us a lesson in economy.

I hesitate to recommend any great improvement or create any additional expense, with our budget this year more limited than that of last, still, having a paramount duty to perform in protecting the population and property of the fifth largest city of the United States I am again compelled to draw to your attention the lack of sufficient personnel and motor equipment to properly care for the yearly increase in population, the fiestas, conventions, and now the Olympiad. If your honorable body could devise ways or means to gratify this demand the results would more than justify it.

While we feel grateful to the Board of Public Works for allocating space in the City Hall to house the executive offices and those of the Detectives and Record Division, yet your honorable body should not abandon your former plans to erect a Police Administration Building, for only through that channel can we ever hope to build up a permanent feeling of security and efficiency in our organization.

As our city grows in population, and as property increases in value, we must expect and prepare for a like increase in crime along with it. This not only calls for additional personnel but additional motor equipment, for some of our radio areas now established are already much too large to be properly policed with our limited personnel, and we must never lose sight of the fact that efficient police protection is demanded of us by the public and which we must extend.

CRIME SITUATION:

In reporting the crime situation for the past twelve months we feel that we have much for which to be thankful, taking everything into consideration. From reports issued all over the country we find the largest increase in crime is due to the general depression and lack of work, which is affecting millions of our people.

The increase in burglary, robbery and larceny (all containing the element of stealing) proves the above assertion. In a further analysis we are bound to note that other classes of crime have failed to show any marked increase. However, taking into consideration the influx of those seeking employment and the annual invasion of the migrating thief to California, I again repeat that we should be thankful to have but an 11% increase in the above-reported crimes. To offset this we can show an equal increase in arrests and activities by members of this Department in an effort to control crime and maintain the efficient standard of the Police Department.

GRATIFYING RESULTS:

This report would be incomplete if tribute were not offered to those members of our Department who paid the supreme sacrifice by giving their lives in the line of police duty.

Too, I am not unmindful of the great spirit of loyalty and cooperation extended by each and every member of the Department. Only through your cooperation were such wonderful gains accomplished, resulting in hundreds of commendatory letters from appreciative citizens.

The yearly report of the Grand Jury commends us for the efficient and satisfactory manner in which the Department handled the so-called "Communitistic" demonstrations and the stench bomb warfare participated in by those opposed to certain union and non-union motion picture corporations. After an extensive investigation into the so-called police brutality methods reported by those whose attitude toward the police has never been friendly or cooperative, the Grand Jury gave us a complete exoneration. The excellent condition in which our jails and station houses were found was highly commended as was the efficiency with which the personnel of the organization was functioning.

When I reflect over the charitable donations during the past year to the Community Chest, the Associated City Employees' Fund for the Unemployed and charity organizations of all ranks and creeds, the extra long hours during the last Fiesta and now during the Olympic Games, and last but not least the voluntary 10% cut in wages that members of this Department have agreed to take and to continue to work the three days a month without pay to assist the city in this year of financial stress, I trust you will understand why I am proud to be the leader of such an organization of loyal men and women.

In conclusion, permit me to express just a word of gratitude for the unfailing support I have received from each member of the Commission. Your timely advice and support in many of the problems confronting us in the past year were all greatly appreciated in the final analysis.

Respectfully,

R. E. STECKEL,
Chief of Police.

Police Department—Inspection May 21st, 1932

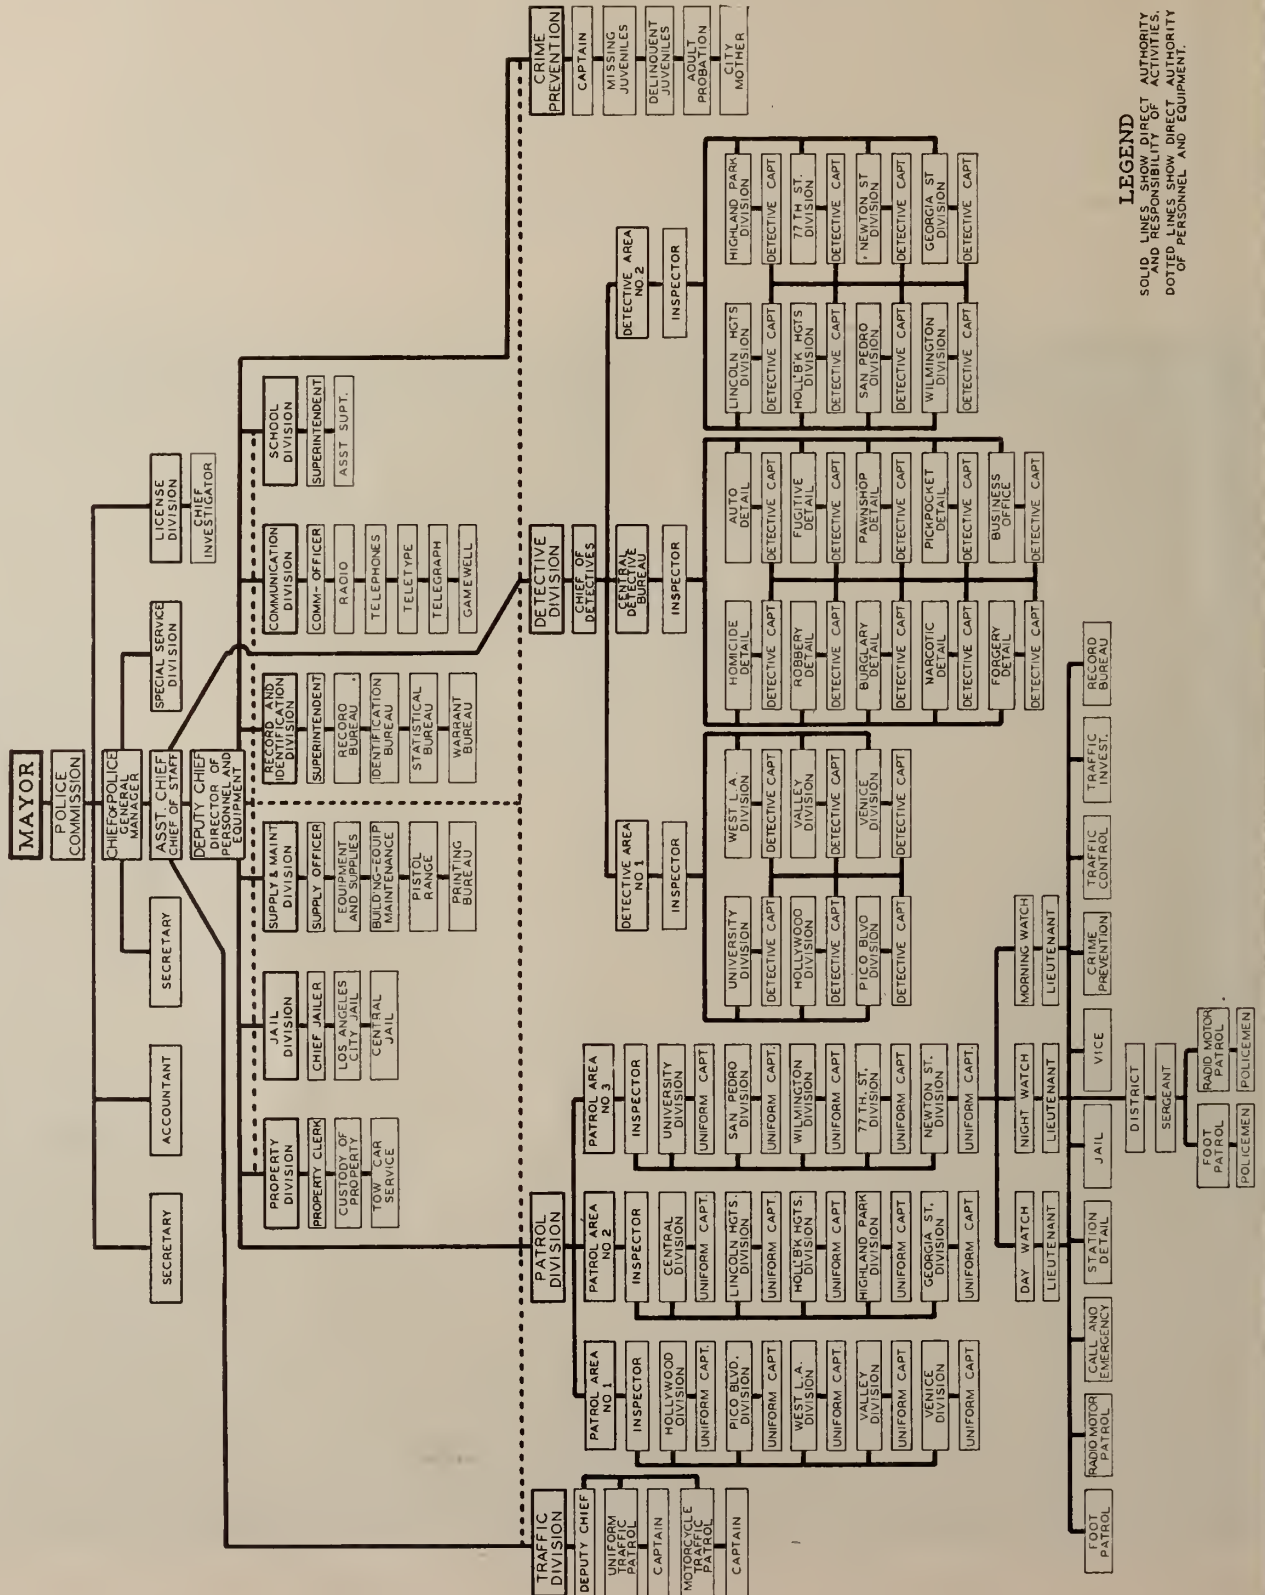

LOS ANGELES, the largest city on the Pacific Coast and the fifth largest in the nation, has definitely established itself as one of the richest markets in the United States. Strategically located in the center of a rapidly growing metropolitan area, it is easily accessible through all types of transportation and represents the pulsating center of Southern California, where the greater proportion of the State's business is done. The city is the Mecca of hundreds of thousands of tourists, who enriched the retail trade in 1930 by more than $100,-500,000 and increased the city's residential population of 1,238,000 by maintaining a daily average of 150,000 visitors.

REORGANIZATION OF THE LOS ANGELES POLICE DEPARTMENT

In the history of Police Departments, periods of organization and reorganization have been times of such upheaval and internal disturbance that to function even partially was practically impossible and not to be expected. Commonly referred to as "police shake-ups", they were all too frequently blazoned to a public which finally passively accepted them as another gesture of police inefficiency. Not only was the citizens' confidence lost, but the result in the ranks of the members of the police departments was a shattered morale not conducive to constructive work. The deplorable effect of these tumultuous conditions has been recognized by our police administrators, who, intent upon developing a higher standard of operation, have made a decided effort to establish and perfect such an organization and still not interrupt or disturb the continuity of efficient police activity.

In January, 1930, the Los Angeles Police Department with Chief R. E. Steckel and his staff, undertook the exceptional task of reorganization without the destruction of its basic structure. During this period not only were new projects launched, tested, and proved successful, but a complete revision of the former organization was simultaneously carried on. The functioning of the Department in these changes reached the highest point of efficiency in its existence. Undoubtedly this condition was due to the fact that the executive officers maintained an "esprit de corps" among the members by purposely avoiding any drastic action that would create the impression of unsettlement and instability usually so conspicuous in the annals of police departments.

The Police Commission, responsible to the Mayor for the operation of the police department materially assisted by clearly defining to the Chief as General Manager, the policy to be adopted. This permitted the Chief, distinctly charged with the functional management, to proceed with his program of reconstruction.

The ultimate objective was the lateral coordination of all functional departments,—the primary step of the Chief being that of assigning his staff specific duties.

The Assistant Chief, in addition to acting as general manager in the absence of the Chief, directs and supervises "Public Relations". The dignity of this superior rank adds prestige to police management in its relationship to the public.

Before 1930, personnel management was under the direction of a Deputy Chief while the equipment was supervised by another department. This condition was rectified by placing both the worker and his equipment under one head, namely, a Deputy Chief. To further assist in personnel supervision of patrol divisions, positions for three inspectors of police were created. Dividing the fifteen patrol divisions into three areas an inspector was placed in command of each. The creation of these positions affords a correct supervision of personnel and functional activities never before possible.

The Chief of Detectives, heretofore without assistance in commanding the Detective Division, was given inspectors of detectives as aides. One inspector was placed as a coordinating supervisor over Headquarters detective squads. The fourteen divisional detective bureaus were divided into two groups, each with an inspector as supervisor of detective activities.

The third major staff officer, Director of Traffic, has experienced an increase in duties and responsibilities. His jurisdiction has been extended from traffic control in only Central Division to the area covering the three metropolitan police districts,—Central, Georgia and Newton. Experience has proved that traffic control and regulation in these three congested districts cannot be successfully accomplished under separate direction but must be placed under one command.

Construction of the new City Jail at Lincoln Heights has made it possible to properly house prisoners sentenced on misdemeanor offenses. This facility to classify and segregate these offenders under sanitary conditions is a vast improvement over the former method. The separation of misdemeanants from felons, the more vicious offenders, by placing them in Central Jail is another step toward the complete modernization of our Jail system. The direction and supervision of both jail units are charged to the Chief Jailer.

Until the last two years, the various procedures of communication in the department lacked coordination and effectiveness. Centralization of the mechanical methods—the telephone, teletype, telegraph, signal system and the addition of radio communication (with several stations and local units) has increased the efficiency of the department and the effectiveness of the individual officer. For the release of officers detailed to call cars to more active police duties, the administration is planning to use civilian messenger service exclusively. The call cars served as carriers of supplies and communications from their respective divisions to Headquarters or sources of necessary materials. The messengers are equipped with motorcycles. This will make thirty additional policemen available for patrol or detective duties.

The radio broadcast, so superior to that of the old re-call method of disseminating information among the beat officers is outstanding for the fact that it is swifter and more accurate. The information is broadcast but once, thus eliminating the former method of repeating the data to each officer as he called in. The call car, stationed at divisional headquarters, answered all major calls and was forced to proceed from that center of each division to the desired location. At present, with the radio equipped cars the call is given to the one nearest the reported address which results in speedy transportation and a greater chance for apprehension of the offender. The advent of the radio and other communication methods has remedied a difficult situation without additional personnel to properly police the city.

The creation of a Supply and Maintenance Division merged these two functions heretofore distributed among several departments. Formerly, the purchasing of supplies for the units was made by the department accountant upon the request of the commanders. The accountant in maintaining fiscal financial records of the department had but little time to study the actual requirement of necessary supplies. At the same time, the maintenance of police stations and equipment, except motor, was in charge of the Chief Jailer. Motor equipment, exclusively, comprised a separate division known as Transportation. It may readily be seen that this distribution of relative functions was conducive to waste and disorganization. The combining of these two sections, together with that of the department printing bureau, which operates on a revolving fund, was a logical sequence in the administrative effort to definitely group and supervise functional activities.

Subsequent to the abolition of the police school in 1926, the department was without the facility of training personnel until the present regime advocated its re-establishment. With the assistance of the local Department of Education a curriculum and educational program was inaugurated. Both departments experimented for the past two years to ascertain a beneficial and correct police course. With the further cooperation of the Department of Education at the University of California, Los Angeles, the Police Department has now established a group of trained instructors, including both professional teachers and police executives to carry out the educational program. In addition, an analysis of police jobs has been made which will be the basis for the curriculum for the ensuing year. Marked improvement among the police personnel has been observed and even better results are expected.

The institution of radioized motor patrol has completely revolutionized the patrol work performed by the department and has reduced the number of personnel assigned to foot patrol to the minimum. The administration considered advisable the retention of foot patrol in congested business districts and other overly busy portions of the city. To properly supervise all phases of patrol has necessitated the motorizing of field sergeants. This plan provides a degree of supervision formerly unattainable.

The responsibility for the suppression of vice has at numerous times been placed under a centralized control. The results under this status were far from satisfactory and for this reason, the control of vice has been divided and placed with each patrol commander. He is responsible for any vice conditions in his division.

The curbing of juvenile delinquency has always been a duty primarily delegated to the Commander of Crime Prevention Division. The vast area of the city with the different conditions and environments resulting from this immense expanse of territory necessitated the placing of trained officers, skilled in this work, in each patrol division. This has proven helpful in expediting this recognized function of Crime Prevention work.

Enforcement of business licenses, formerly exercised by all officers and divisions, has been centralized and a distinct division created which is definitely responsible for this activity.

The appointment of a physician to the Police Department in 1931 instituted the periodical physical examination of all members. This procedure has had a beneficial effect upon both the financial resources and the efficiency of the department. Keeping the personnel in such excellent physical condition has eliminated numerous sick leaves and absences which were always costly to the city and its taxpayers.

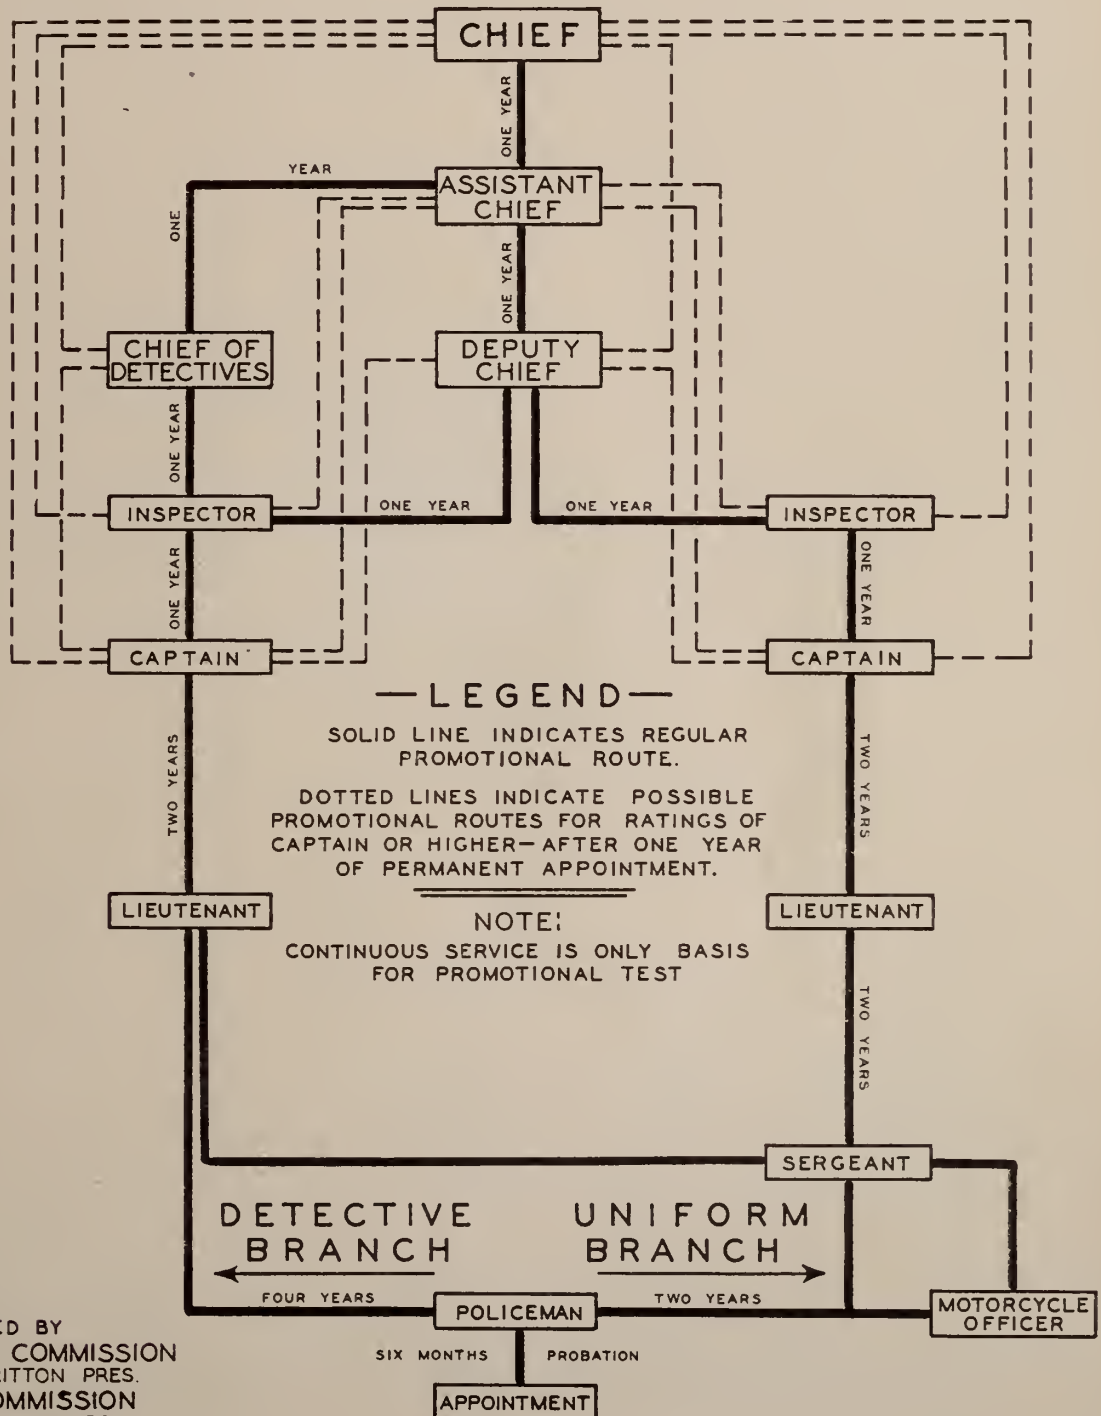

The Identification Card issued solely to sworn members is under consideration by the administration. This should remedy the difficulty of proper identification experienced by all police departments. The department has requested the City Council to enact an ordinance limiting the issuance of identification cards to police members so that the public may at all times be protected from imposters. This is a service to the people of Los Angeles that police executives believe is necessary and valuable.

Additional to the general vertical control of responsibility and command, the administration has developed and improved the lateral cooperation which is traceable to several factors. The commanders of patrol divisions are delegated the responsibility for execution of policies of procedure, as outlined by the Chief and his staff, on the recommendation of functional division commanders. This avoids all confusion in issuing inter-departmental instructions of police routine which resulted when made directly from a functional to a patrol commander. The group of inspectors, under the direct supervision of the administration, assures cooperation between patrol and detective units in the solution of mutual problems.

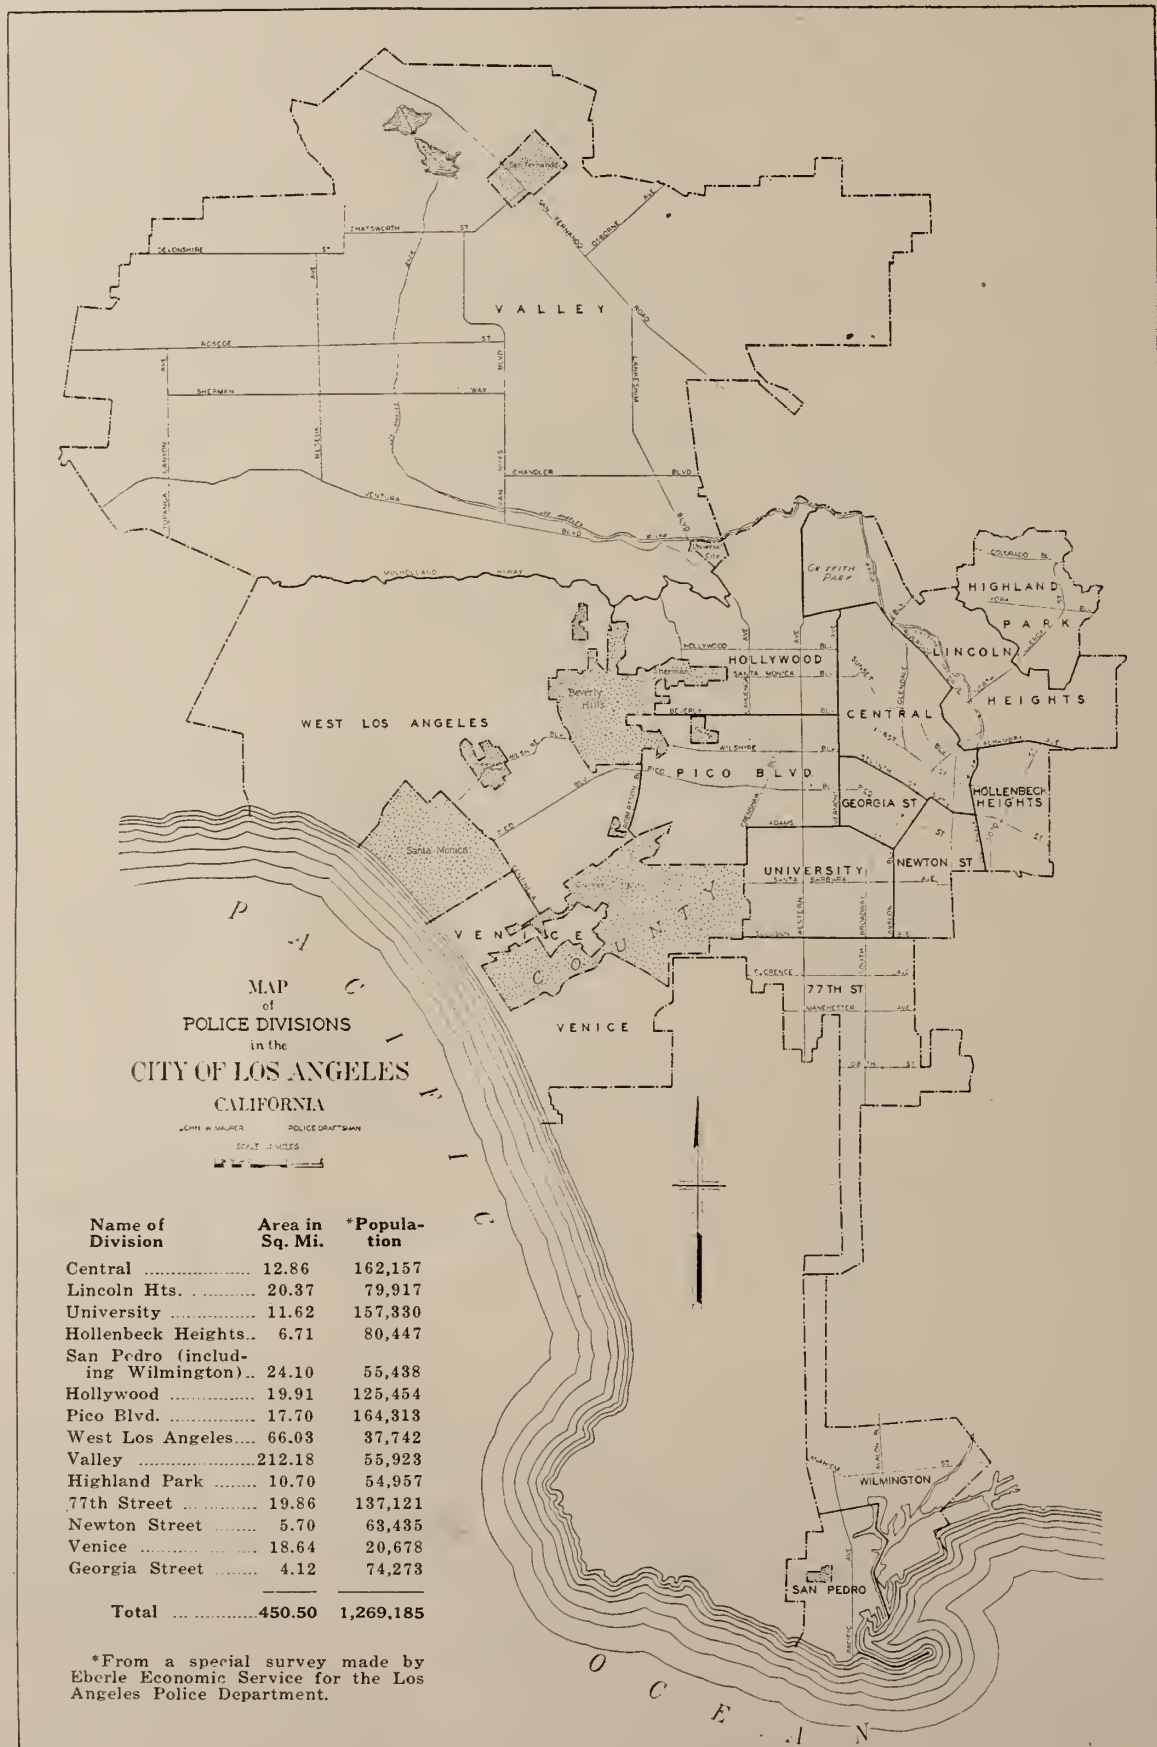

The changes in organization within the department are not only results of years of practical police experience, coupled with special skill in police technique, but are due also to the fact that no former administration has ever been permanent or stable enough to successfully develop a well-balanced efficient organization.

The spirit throughout the entire department during the reorganization has been one of unusual cooperation and helpfulness which produced an evenness of operation, inspiring and encouraging to the administration in its arduous task of reconstruction.

SCHOOL DIVISION

Police Civics formed the major portion of the past year's educational activity. The subject was divided into six courses of study, four of which were offered during the full term, the remainder being offered for a half term.

The full term courses were:

Civics I—U. S. Constitution and Preliminary Provisions, California Penal Code.

Civics II—Crimes and Punishments, California Penal Code.

Civics III—Rules of Procedure, California Penal Code.

Civics IV—Leading crime and punishment interpretation cases, California Reports.

The half term courses were:

Civics IA—California Vehicle Act.

Civics V—Leading criminal procedure interpretation cases, California Reports.

These courses of study were offered to all police officers and those civilians whose names appeared on the Civil Service eligible list for appointment to the office of policeman.

Meteorology was offered as an elective subject to some twenty-five members of the Department who are interested in preparing themselves for such aero patrol service as may become a part of future police service.

English was offered as an elective subject to thirty-five members of the Department as a related technical subject.

Radio Practice was offered as an elective subject to many members of the Communication Division. This course was conducted by the Frank Wiggins Trade School.

First Aid was offered fifty members of the Department assigned to motorcycles equipped with first aid kits. This twenty-hour course was conducted by officers of the School Division.

Police Vocational Education Conferences were conducted in the City Council Chambers during the past year by the Vocational Education Division, Los Angeles City High School District. These conferences were attended by all police and detective executives below the rank of Chief of Police and above the rank of Lieutenant of Police or Detective.

This series of conferences totaled thirty hours of time and resulted in some very definite recommendations relative to extending police education beyond the academic and into the vocational field.

Police Teacher Training classes were attended by twenty-five police and detective executives assigned to the work by the Chief of Police. This thirty-hour course was offered by the Division of Vocational Education, University of California at Los Angeles as a preparatory step to the inauguration of short unit study courses of police vocational education in the Police School.

Police Job Analysis of the Department was in progress at the close of the fiscal year. This analysis is being developed by experts in the various police and detective work assignments cooperating with a representative of the Department of Education, State of California.

An important purpose of the analysis is that of forming the basis for future police service or education projects throughout the State of California in addition to such use as this Department may make of it in future courses of study offered by the Police School.

JAIL DIVISION

During the 12-month period ending June 30, 1932, our total number of prisoners (male and female) was 460,313. Included in this total are 7,724 female prisoners who were housed in the County Jail prior to the opening of the new City Jail on December 16, 1931.

During said period, 325,563 pounds of meat and 333,449 ½ pounds of bread were purchased for the Jail Division, and 1,305,025 meals were served.

During the fiscal period 179,978 days' labor was performed by prisoners classified as follows:

67,512 days' labor on various work gangs of the City Jail, to-wit: Pistol Range, Garage, Tow Car, Firemen, Garden, Incinerator, Laundry, Janitors, Liquor and Property Men, Painters, Carpenters, Kitchen, Office, etc., representing a saving to the city, when estimated at the conservative figure of 50c per day, of.....	$ 33,756
87,950 days' labor performed by prisoners at the various stations, at 50c per day	43,975
20,276 days' labor furnished by prisoners to the City Parks and Engineering Department, estimated at $1.00 per day.....	20,276
4,240 days' labor performed by female prisoners, working in the dining room, office, linen room, and sewing room making uniforms for women prisoners, night gowns, and mending men prisoners' clothing, estimated at 50c per day	2,120
A total saving of.....	$100,127

DETECTIVE DIVISION

In view of the fact that an acute unemployment condition, with an attendant increase in crime, has existed during the past year, it is in order to note a few of the achievements of the Detective Division over that period of time.

Members of Central Robbery Detail made 1875 felony arrests for suspicion of robbery. Of that number, 949 suspects were released after investigation; 339 persons were convicted of robbery; 45 were convicted of lesser charges; 25 dismissed by court; 9 released to juvenile authorities and 5 were killed during the commission of crimes; 354 defendants were turned over to officers of other details, and at present 149 cases are pending in court. A "new high" in value of property recovered was reached. Between the dates of July 1, 1931, and July 1, 1932, property valued at $198,659.18 was recovered by officers of Central Robbery Detail. A typical case was that of a downtown jewelry robbery in which three men participated. A week after the commission of the robbery, three suspects were in custody and loot valued at $52,000.00—representing approximately the total loss—was recovered and returned to its legal owners. The men arrested in connection with this case are all serving time at this date.

A check-up discloses that automobile thefts for the city have decreased 4 per cent during the past year, and that 84.2% (as compared with 82% for 1930-31) of automobiles reported stolen were recovered. Actual property (not automobiles) valued at $5,770.00 was recovered in connection with these thefts. Of 298 felony arrests made, 109 convictions were obtained.

Investigation of 71 homicides committed in the City of Los Angeles during the past fiscal year resulted in 3 men being sentenced to hang; 10 received sentences of life imprisonment; 5 were acquitted; 21 committed suicide immediately following the murders; 11 have not been apprehended, and the remaining defendants were found guilty of manslaughter or second degree murder. These figures represent cases which occurred in Los Angeles proper, and do not include homicides committed in nearby counties, several of which were solved by members of Central Homicide Detail.

Of 1038 defendants arrested by members of the Narcotic Detail, 822 were tried for violation of the narcotic laws. The remaining defendants were turned over to the Robbery and Burglary Details for investigation. From 1929 to date records show a 10 per cent increase over each preceding year in the number of narcotic arrests. This has assisted materially in reducing major crimes in Los Angeles as compared to other metropolitan cities in which the narcotic menace is more or less neglected.

Officers of Central Pawnshop Detail recovered and returned to legal owners property valued at approximately $85,000.00. The function of the Pawnshop Detail is to check pawnshops, second-hand stores and junk yards for lost and stolen property of all kinds, in addition to enforcing the regulatory statutes and ordinances applicable to this class of business. Shortly after the beginning of the fiscal year, the making of tracings of signatures on pawnshop and second-hand stores' records was discontinued, and photostatic copies taken instead. This has materially increased the efficiency of the Detail, as accurate comparisons of signatures can now be made.

The Bunco and Pickpocket Detail functions as a special squad for the purpose of handling cases of theft committed by means of confidence, trick and device, sleight of hand or other deception. A recapitulation of the work accomplished by this Detail during the past year shows 1176 arrests made, 984 of which were heard in court. Property recovered (not including real estate) was valued at $49,677.84. A number of notorious confidence men, pickpockets and shoplifters have been arrested and convicted of felonies during this period of time. The constant and vigilant efforts of officers of the Bunco and Pickpocket Detail have rendered it impossible for many gangs coming within the above category to operate their various "rackets" in this city.

In two and one-half years, the Fugitive Detail has doubled in man-power and has developed into one of the most efficient Details of the Division. Its function is primarily the handling of all arrests of fugitives from other cities and states, and to assist in extradition proceedings concerning such fugitives. From July, 1931, to July, 1932, approximately 240 felony arrests were made, and 170 fugitives were extradited to other states for trial.

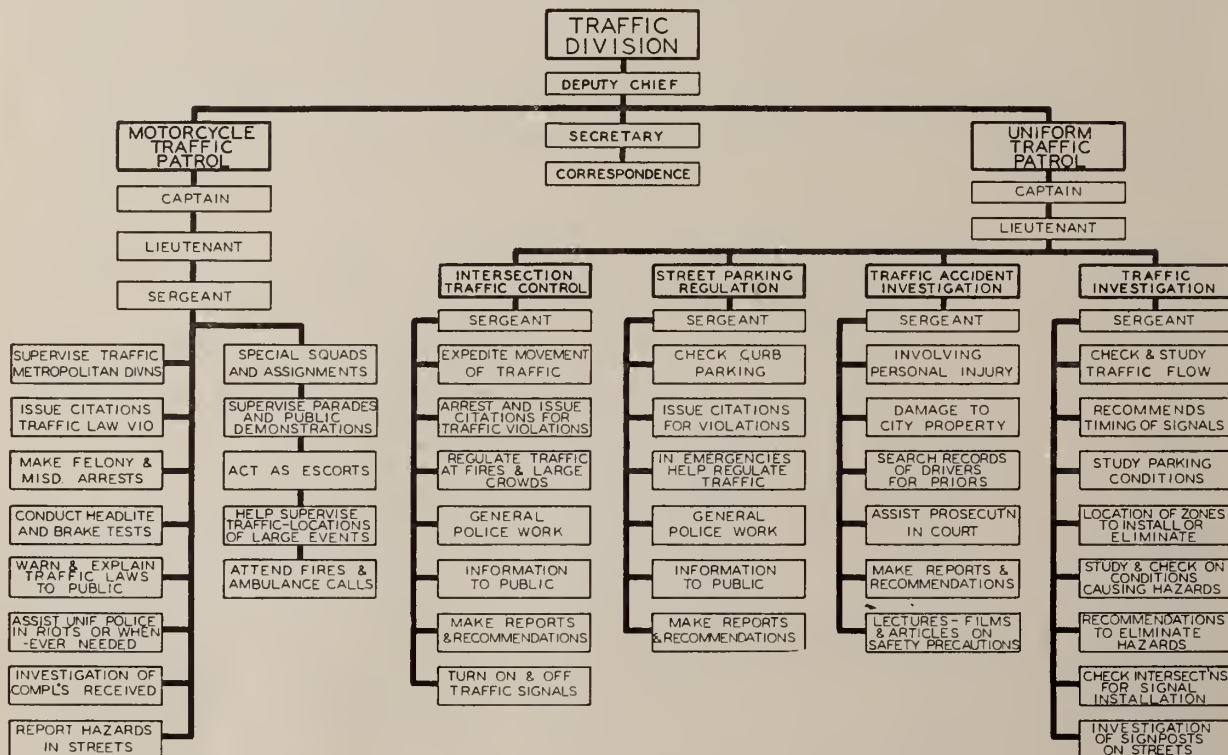

The Forgery Detail obtained felony convictions on 399 out of 432 arrests made. Records show a decrease in the number of checks forged and issued "without sufficient funds" this year over last, which is noteworthy in view of the present economic situation.

Burglars and petty thieves were particularly active during the past year, but notwithstanding this fact, arrests made, property recovered, convictions obtained in court and cases cleared were increased materially over the previous year. Of 323 felony arrests made by Central Burglary Detail, 188 defendants were convicted of burglary. The remaining cases were those in which the defendants were convicted of lesser crimes, or were turned over to officers of other Details and Divisions for prosecution. Officers of Central Burglary Detail investigated 1679 burglaries and thefts committed in their own division, which resulted in the clearing of 572 cases. In addition they investigated 1288 arrests made by uniformed officers.

The facts and figures quoted above represent, in the main, the work of officers assigned to Detective Bureau Headquarters. However, these same figures, on a lesser scale, are reflected in each of the outside detective divisions, all of which have functioned efficiently throughout the year.

OF

LOS ANGELES
POLICE DEPARTMENT

TRAFFIC DIVISION

During the past fiscal year the safety educational activities of the Traffic Division have brought to an increasing number of residents the necessity for the observance of all traffic safety regulations. Addresses have been delivered almost daily before clubs and civic organizations, by radio and through the press. Stricter enforcement and more severe penalties for reckless drivers cannot be had without the interest of the public in traffic safety, and that interest can only be maintained by continual public discussions of the subject. How many accidents have been prevented by the agitation of the question of traffic safety can only be surmised, but there can be no doubt that the safety propaganda has resulted in a very considerable diminution in traffic fatalities and injuries.

The motorcycle officers were handicapped during the greater part of the past fiscal year by worn and defective motorcycles which could not be ridden fast enough for the apprehension of speedy drivers. Recently, 57 of the defective motorcycles were replaced by new ones, greatly augmenting the efficiency of the motorcycle squad.

Another problem that still confronts the Traffic Division is the enforcement of parking laws in the downtown area. Increasing irritation is shown by business men because of all-day parking, which seriously interferes with their business. To prevent as much illegal parking as possible, a new method of enforcement was adopted in the past year. It had been the practice to detail "checkers" where parking was most objectionable, leaving other districts unguarded and without any attempt made at enforcement, because of insufficient personnel. By the present method, however, most of the downtown area is covered by detailing "checkers" for a day or two to one or more streets, transferring them at the end of such period to other streets, where they are not expected and where drivers suppose they may park with impunity. While the parking laws cannot be enforced as strictly as they should be with this method, yet it creates in the minds of chronic violators a feeling of uncertainty, which tends to prevent all-day parking by many drivers.

Another notable development during this year just past has been the synchronization of traffic signals in the downtown area. The uniform timing synchronization has resulted in a more even flow of traffic, a lessening of congestion, and an equal distribution of traffic on the streets of the downtown area.

The progressive timing of the new type of signal installed on Wilshire Boulevard in the past year has resulted in an even flow of traffic in both directions on that boulevard. These signals are so timed that a driver may, at a uniform speed traverse the entire length of the signalized part of Wilshire Boulevard without being stopped by the signals. This has greatly lessened the time necessary for traversing Wilshire Boulevard, relieved congestion on the boulevard, materially reduced accidents, and has met with general approval by the driving public.

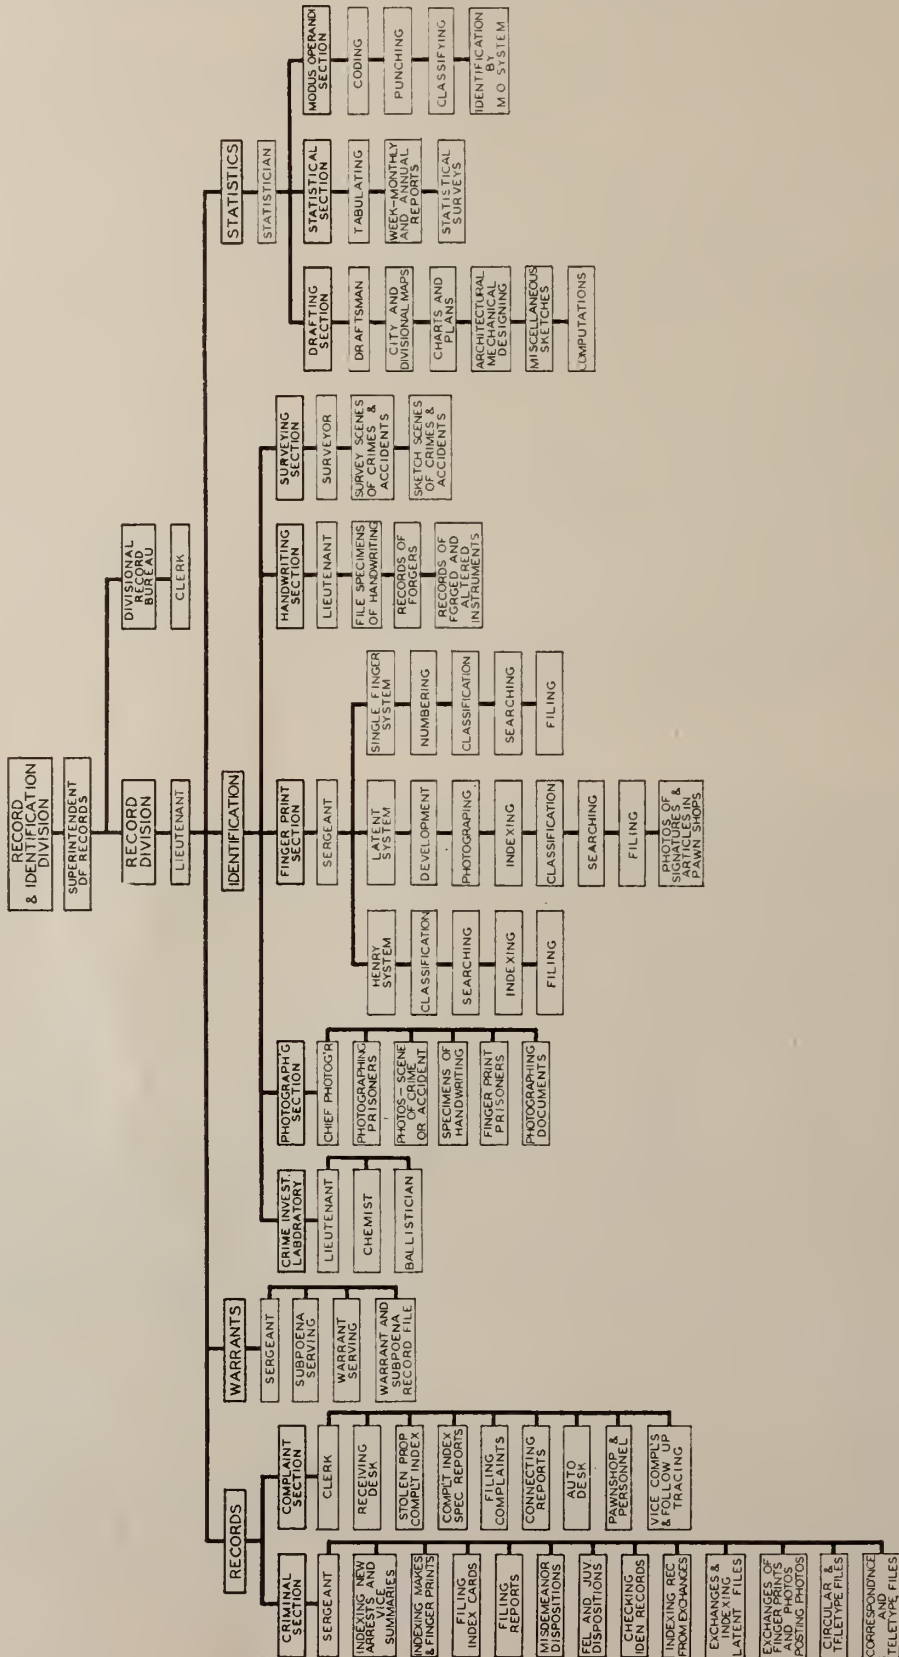

The Traffic Accident Investigation Bureau maintains a large map of the city for showing the location of traffic accidents which result in fatal and non-fatal injuries. Colored pins are used to distinguish the fatal from the non-fatal injuries, and the period of the day when the accidents occur—whether during the morning watch, from 12:00 midnight to 8:00 A. M., the day watch from 8:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M., or the night watch from 4:00 to 12:00 midnight. By this method, the location of traffic accidents and the period of occurrence are depicted in a graphic way. Motorcycle officers are detailed to the points where accidents are most numerous, and sign-posts, traffic signal installations or street marks are recommended wherever such action will have a beneficial effect.

The motorcycle bureau has divided the city into thirty-eight districts, and the motorcycle officers are concentrated within one district for one or two watches. They are then transferred to another district. By concentrating the entire force of motorcycle officers in a watch on the limited area of the city included in one district, a more effective impression is made on drivers who disregard traffic laws and a noticeable drop in accidents is always the result of this action.

ORGANIZATION OF
RECORD AND IDENTIFICATION DIVISION
LOS ANGELES
POLICE DEPARTMENT

THE RECORD AND IDENTIFICATION DIVISION

The Identification Bureau of the Los Angeles Police Department was established in the year 1906, with a personnel of one employee. Soon after a photographer was added to the detail.

For many years the identification of criminals depended upon photographs and descriptive information recorded and filed under the Bertillon system, but in 1912 the Identification Bureau began to interest itself in the comparatively new science of fingerprints. Representatives of the Bureau were sent to Berkeley, San Diego, and Leavenworth to study the fingerprint system. Upon their return they applied its principles in the local Bureau, and that same year saw the first fingerprints taken and recorded in the Los Angeles Police Department files.

On October 5, 1923, the Daily Police Bulletin announced the creation of a Division of Records, to be separate and distinct from all other divisions and subordinate to the Chief of Police and his deputies only. The former Identification Bureau was immediately absorbed by the new Division that is now shown on the organization chart as the Record and Identification Division.

A great variety of tasks are performed by the 105 employees of this Division. General clerical and stenographic work occupies the time of 55 to 60 per cent of all employees. Other employees are engaged in duties which require special knowledge of fingerprints, ballistics, chemistry, questioned documents and writings, drafting and surveying.

The Fingerprint Section: This detail is concerned with the classifying, searching, and filing of all fingerprint records taken locally or received from outside jurisdictions, as well as with investigations for fingerprint evidence at scenes of crime.

During the fiscal year 1931-1932 the number of local fingerprint records received amounted to 23,212. Of this number, 10,518 were identified with prior records. The exchange fingerprints received from outside sources during the same period of time numbered 9,117. Identifications with past records already on file were made on 3,330 of these exchange prints. The total number of identifications made from local prints, exchanges, and special prints received amounted to 14,427 for the year. On July 1, 1932, there were 270,066 sets of fingerprints on file in the Division.

The detail assigned to the investigation of crime for fingerprint evidence answered 4,537 calls to scenes of crime during the fiscal year. In 1,761 of these cases, photographs of fingerprints were secured.

Annual Report of Latent Fingerprint Section: Identification established by means of fingerprints photographed at scenes of crime, for fiscal year ending June 30, 1932: Burglary, 63; Robbery, 10; Murder, 9; Grand Theft (Auto), 7; Theft, 1; Sodomy, 1; Volstead Act Violations, 7; Wright Act Possession, 3; Assault with Deadly Weapon, 2; Malicious Mischief, 1. Total, 104.

In fourteen burglary cases and one case of assault with a deadly weapon no suspect was named. The identification in these instances were established solely by searching and comparing fingerprints. In 89 cases a suspect was named, yet in many of these cases the fingerprints furnished the only evidence upon which conviction could be secured.

Identification of Dead and Injured: Eighty-three dead and injured were identified with past records by means of fingerprints. In 11 of these cases there were no other means of identification, as the bodies were known only as "John Does".

Time in Court: Fingerprint men attached to the Record and Identification Division spent 231½ hours in court on duty and 10½ hours off duty.

Photographic Calls to Pawnshops: There were 351 calls made to the various pawnshops for the purpose of photographing signatures and articles which were pawned.

Single Fingerprint Files: In the case of persons arrested on the following charges, duplicate sets of fingerprints are taken, on a special form: Burglary, Robbery, Carrying Concealed Weapons, Grand Theft Auto, Receiving Stolen Property, and Petty Theft. These prints are classified and filed as to pattern and ridge characteristics apparent in each individual finger. Single fingerprints from scenes of crime are searched subsequently in this file, and, as a result, valuable identifications are effected.

Outstanding among the identifications made was one that led to the solution of a robbery and murder. This identification resulted in first-degree murder conviction and sentence to life imprisonment.

The Handwriting Section: This unit examined 7,513 exemplars of handwriting during the year. By a comparison of handwriting, handprinting, and typewriting, 617 identifications were made. The specialists assigned to this work made 487 appearances in court to testify as to the origins of questioned writings, following identification.

Crime Investigation Laboratory: Three specialists operate in the Crime Investigation Laboratory under the direct supervision of a police lieutenant. Their work involves surveying, chemistry, and ballistics.

Report for fiscal year 1931-32 shows the surveyor made 79 investigations and formed the same number of maps. These maps portrayed the scenes of crimes and accidents and were made for use as illustrations in court cases. Other work by the surveyor involved locating new private patrol areas on a master map and drawing up individual maps of districts covered by private patrols.

The chemist made 74 outside investigations, testified in court in 54 cases, conducted various researches, and made 300 analyses and examinations of various kinds.

The Photographic Section: Approximately 6,000 prisoners were photographed in the past year by employees assigned to this section. Other work included the securing of photographs at scenes of crimes, photographing checks and documents, etc., etc. Officers assigned to this detail also took 27,044 sets of fingerprints for the local files and exchanges.

The Warrant Office: The warrant section of the Record and Identification Division received a total number of 33,409 warrants during the year. Felony warrants in the number of 492 were recorded and forwarded to the detectives for serving. Officers assigned to the warrant section served 4,787 misdemeanor warrants. Warrant officers assigned to other divisions of the Police Department served 11,115 misdemeanor warrants. Witnesses named in subpoenas and served by officers of the warrant section numbered 55,235. Mileage covered by motor vehicles was 97,183.

Metered Mail: On August 22, 1931, a progressive change was effected in the handling of outgoing Departmental correspondence. A hand-operated metered mail machine was installed in the Record and Identification Division on that date, and instructions were issued as to the future routing of this class of mail.

All outgoing mail with form letters and cards enclosed is forwarded direct to the Correspondence Desk, Record and Identification Division, in addressed, sealed envelopes. Other outgoing correspondence, with carbon copy attached, is placed in addressed envelopes and forwarded unsealed to the office of the Inspector of Detectives, if from Detective units, or to the Secretary to the Chief of Police if from other sources within the Department.

Prior to the advent of the metered mail machine in the Los Angeles Police Department, postage stamps were issued to the various units and details. Needless to say, if stamps are used it is difficult for any large organization to account accurately for the proper use of all postage stamps issued. The cost of metered postage in the Los Angeles Police Department as a whole from August 22, 1931, to June 30, 1932, amounted to $842.98. This figure represents less than one-half the expense incurred for a corresponding period of time immediately preceding the advent of metered mail in this Department.

The Statistical Section: With the scientific advancement of police methods, the compilation of statistics has become recognized as a necessary function of a modern police department. The acknowledged basis for accurate and dependable police statistics is the record system of the organization. As this system progresses, so must the statistical data achieve the same high standard of efficiency. Without a centralized and perfected record system, a statistical bureau cannot be of service to the Department or to other agencies—for its information would be unreliable and incomplete.

In the last nine years the Statistical Bureau of the Los Angeles Police Department has grown in proportion to the Record and Identification Division. At the inauguration of this Bureau only portions of the Department's activities were statistically indexed, but each year new data was added, and at present all Departmental activities are tabulated in its offices. The last major addition was the centralization and the recording of traffic citations. These are now tabulated by various important factors with the use of electrical tabulating equipment.

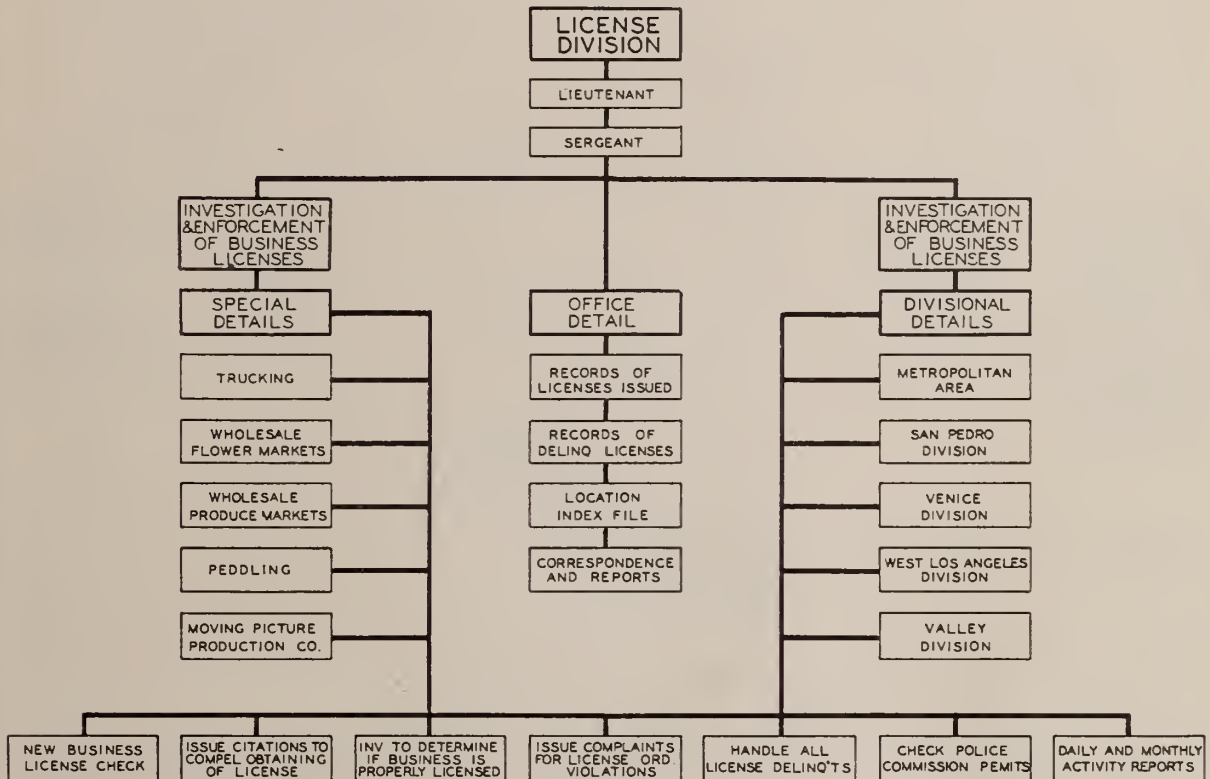

In this next year, 1932-1933, the size of machinery used by the Statistical Bureau will be changed from a 45-column to an 80-column informative card. This gives almost twice the amount of space for the expansion of statistical and Modus Operandi data. The volume of reports recorded monthly by this Bureau has increased to 35,000. A tabulating card is punched for each of these reports, and 20,000 of these must be punched twice to record the results of investigation on complaints and the dispositions on arrests. The added space on the new equipment permits much more valuable information to be kept on Modus Operandi. Pertinent material heretofore slighted for lack of space will now be recorded, thus permitting this Bureau to be of more service to investigating officers.

Another important function of the Statistical Bureau is the Drafting Section. Practically all maps for divisions are made in this unit. One of the outstanding maps made in the past year was of the entire storm drain system in relation to the locations of banks throughout the City. An entire set of organization charts of the various divisions of the Police Department was made also. The charts are shown at various places in this book. Following the creation of the Communication Division with its 86 radio cars, 150 maps of the City were printed and "lined up" for each radio-equipped police car. These must be renewed frequently on account of wear from constant use. A technically trained engineer is used by the Department for these duties.

The Bureau has been particularly active in making special analyses for other organizations during the past year. Among these were the studies of the unemployment condition of persons arrested, compiled for the State Committee for Unemployed, and the "Transient Juveniles" released to the Department of Labor at Washington. Our Department is pleased to have the facilities to produce this material, and every effort is being made to maintain a high standard of efficiency in this Bureau.

SUPPLY & MAINTENANCE DIVISION
LOS ANGELES POLICE DEPT.

SUPPLY AND MAINTENANCE DIVISION

The Supply and Maintenance Division, created December 1, 1930 is an important unit of the Police Department. It combines what was formerly known as the Transportation Division and that portion of the work of the Accountant, the Jail and the Rifle Range relating to purchasing and handling of equipment and supplies. The work of this division is varied and multitudinous and involves a yearly expenditure of approximately $500,000. The many branches which comprise the division are:

BUILDING MAINTENANCE AND REPAIRS:

This branch keeps in repair and workable condition each of the fifteen police stations, a task that requires the services of ten men. These men include painters, carpenters, electricians, truck drivers and miscellaneous helpers. For their use a shop is maintained where cabinet and other carpentry work is done. There is also a supply room (a department store on a miniature scale) where small quantities of everything from feather dusters to paints and provisions will be found.

JAIL EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES:

Considerable work of the Jail Division comes under the supervision of the Supply and Maintenance Division, such as operating the Laundry and the Disinfecting and Power Plants, all of which are located at Lincoln Heights Division.

After a prisoner receives a jail sentence, his personal effects, with the exception of his clothing are placed in the Property Clerk's office until his release. Male prisoners are given overalls and blue shirts; women prisoners clean hosiery, underclothing and aprons. All personal clothing is deposited in the Disinfecting Plant and fumigated in cyanide tanks, later finding its way to the Jail Laundry where it is washed. Jail bedding is handled in the same manner as personal clothing.

Speaking of the Laundry: It is modernly equipped with an electric washing machine and the work done by "trusties" who are supervised by police officers.

The Power Plant is operated by four stationary steam engineers.

Prisoners' shoes (jail property) are repaired in a shoe shop maintained for that purpose. Bedding and clothing are patched at the Jail Tailor Shop maintained in conjunction with the Laundry.

All supplies and provisions furnished prisoners are handled through the Supply and Maintenance Division.

MOTOR EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES:

It is important that all equipment be properly cared for if the efficiency of the Police Department is to be maintained. To care for 286 motor vehicles and the 110 motorcycles of the Department keeps 17 automobile mechanics, 2 motorcycle mechanics, 1 automobile electrician and 11 garage utility men busy. These men are under the supervision of a police sergeant.

Central Police Garage is equipped to care for practically all mechanical repair work, although each police division maintains a small garage where minor repair work and servicing of cars is carried on. An Inspector of Equipment makes a continual check of all equipment in each division.

In conjunction with the garage is a supply storeroom where tire stock and other materials are kept on hand.

All requisitions for supplies and accessories pertaining to motor equipment and other supplies pass through the office of the Supply and Maintenance Division.

Much thought is given to preparing plans and specifications for purchasing and constructing motor equipment for police service, insofar as funds will permit. This is done to best serve the people of Los Angeles and protect their lives and property in compliance with the law.

OFFICE EQUIPMENT SUPPLIES:

A special appropriation was made by the City, when the police executive offices and those of the Record and Detective Divisions were moved to the City Hall, to properly furnish these offices to conform to other offices in the building. For the first time in the history of the Police Department the office of the Chief of Police has furnishings in keeping with the dignity of his position. It is the purpose of the Supply and Maintenance Division, insofar as is possible, to furnish each office of our fifteen divisions with suitable office equipment.

PISTOL RANGE EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES:

The Pistol Range is centrally located in Elysian Park and covers fenced-in ground approximating 10 acres. The surroundings are not only ideal in which to hold shooting matches but make delightful picnic grounds capable of accomodating 200 persons at tables. For the convenience of picnickers, gas and wood stoves are provided. There is a Maypole for the children as well as a merry-go-round.

A Qualification Shoot, in which each member of the Force must take part (making a score of 60 slow fire and 40 rapid fire, and using either a Smith and Wesson .38 or a Colt .45 revolver), is held every month. In addition, there is held what is known as the Money Shoot. Winners of this shoot are paid a monthly bonus as follows: $2.00 for Marksmanship (score 280-320); $5.00 for Sharpshooter (score 320-360), and $7.00 for Expert (score 360-and-up). An officer must have qualified by a score of 280 or better before being permitted to participate in the Money Shoot.

CRIME PREVENTION DIVISION

Several years ago the Los Angeles Police Department recognized the need for crime prevention as it pertained to the young and the unfortunate and established a department of police known as the Crime Prevention Division to deal with this problem. This Division has grown rapidly. The present personnel is composed of 58 men and women carefully trained and especially fitted for this particular work. New York's Crime Prevention Bureau, and other similar organizations elsewhere in the United States, are modeled after this Department.

Within this Division there are a number of units performing highly specialized work. There are two adult probation groups, one dealing with men, the other with women. They handle all applications for probation and parole filed after misdemeanor convictions in the Municipal Court. These officers attempt to separate the misguided miscreants from the professional criminals and to help the Court deal with them accordingly. Last year there were 5759 applications given consideration, and the Courts granted probation or parole in 1952 cases. It is a long stride in the right direction when a police officer steps before the bar of justice as a probation officer seeking the leniency of the Court for the unfortunate one who finds himself in the toils of the law.

The City Mother's Bureau is essentially a Crime Prevention unit dealing entirely with non-criminal cases. This Bureau endeavors to make a scientific approach to domestic difficulties. This group also gives temporary aid and assistance to persons in great stress, thus tiding them over during the crises of their lives. In analyzing their cases, the services of a psychiatrist are often used, and in some other cases, where sex problems are involved, the Bureau utilizes the services of the Paul Popince Clinic, a clinic of human relations. Constructive work is also accomplished by securing employment for untrained girls and women. Last year the City Mother's Bureau handled about 3000 cases.

The Crime Prevention Division also has its Detective Bureau handling all adults charged with crimes against children, including cases of rape, incest, sex perversion, kidnapping and contributing to the delinquency of minors. The group of men and women detailed to these cases are socially minded. They attempt to make the best possible adjustment for the victims of these heinous offenses and at the same time realize that the perpetrators are often in need of pathological care which may tend to cure their perverted conditions. This treatment should be administered during detention and segregation. Upon advice from the Juvenile Division of the District Attorney's office, young expectant mothers and the men charged with the offense are often sent to the Marriage License Bureau. Of course this is done only in cases in which the wedding has been delayed for lack of parental consent. Last year this unit handled over 900 cases.

Another purely crime preventive unit in this division is the Missing Persons Bureau. The men and women in this work search for runaway and missing children and return them to their parents. They analyze each case, keeping all pertinent data and issuing a monthly report on the number, sex, age, nationality and cause of runaways. About 3600 cases are handled yearly by this office, all non-criminal, but certainly a field where much crime preventive work can be done.

One of the most unique and interesting units of this division is the Dance Hall Detail which regulates and supervises public dance halls. The taxi dances were really a moral menace at the time this detail was established. Many young girls, some 15 years and under, were employed in these places. A large number of the Filipinos and other foreign patrons carried knives, while others carried guns and blackjacks. Drunken brawls often resulting in serious injury with occasionally a fatality were frequent. These conditions have either been entirely eliminated or greatly modified. All of the girls employed as taxi dancers must be 21 and are registered with this office, which keeps their histories and photographs, that they may check on the age and identity of all doubtful applicants. These girls must have a police clearance card before they may be employed. Permission must be secured to transfer from one dance hall to another. This detail, with the sanction of the Police Commission, may suspend any girl for a limited time for disobedience to any rule, such as misconduct with a patron. With this strict police surveillance, conditions have greatly improved. Because this detail is composed of men and women who are sympathetic, fair and impartial, few or no complaints have been registered.

One of the most important units is the Girls' Department. The policewomen who handle the girls' case work are especially fitted and trained for their work. They are social workers with enough of the police viewpoint to consider the protection of society while attempting adjustments. They successfully handle a large percent of their own cases and co-operate fully with all other agencies dealing with this problem. Every attempt is made to stabilize the delinquent and pre-delinquent girl. Home and neighborhood conditions are investigated and remedied where possible. The services of the psychology departments of the schools and the psychiatric clinic of the Juvenile Hall are frequently utilized in an effort to find the child's problem so the adjustment may be more readily accomplished. Last year this department handled 1700 cases.

Lastly, there is a unit which handles boy case work. The men in this group are carefully chosen for qualities of leadership and because of their wide experience, sound judgment, high standards of morals and sincere interest in the work. They have a tremendous responsibility—that of determining from investigations which boys shall go to Juvenile Court and which shall be given other treatment. In making these decisions, the Juvenile Court and the County Juvenile Probation Office have given splendid co-operation. Through this program and with the support of the various social agencies, we have been able to handle about half of our cases out of Juvenile Court. Last year 3912 boys were arrested for various crimes. Complete statistical data is kept from day to day. For two years a pin map to show the delinquency areas of the city has been maintained. This map is pinned daily; the color of the tack represents the crime, and the location represents the home of the delinquent. Each month the map is photographed and the operation begins anew. These photographs may be readily compared, and the information is given to the Los Angeles Council for Juvenile Research, to character-building agencies, service clubs and any others interested in city delinquency areas. By use of this system we have been able to place juvenile officers in outside districts where delinquency was most prevalent.

As a part of this unit, a juvenile traffic office is maintained which handles all city traffic offenders under the age of 18 years. Here a most constructive piece of work is being done. Last year 4750 cases were handled, including reckless driving. Only 91 cases were filed with the Juvenile Court. All others were adjusted with the aid of the parents or were assigned to the Los Angeles Traffic School. This school is quite unique and has proved very successful. The children are given a course of study pertaining to traffic rules and regulations for safety. They are required to attend the school each Saturday forenoon for four successive weeks—or longer if necessary to satisfactorily pass the examination. Through the co-operation of the parents, the driving privileges of hundreds of offenders have been curtailed, while many licenses have been suspended by the parents for varying lengths of time. This system must be effective, for the percentage of repeaters has been more than cut in half since January, 1931. At that time the monthly percentage of repeaters was as high as 21%. The average of the first three months of this year has been less than 7%.

It is surprising and gratifying to note that, although crime in general has increased, juvenile delinquency has decreased in the City of Los Angeles; at least the annual report of the Boys' Department for 1931 compared with the annual report for 1930 supports this contention. Although the total number of cases for 1931 was 3912 as against 3725 for 1930, showing a total increase of 187 cases, there were 471 transients for 1931 as against 255 for 1930, which shows that there were 29 less city delinquents arrested in 1931 than in 1930.

Crime is our greatest social problem. It will not be solved by law enforcement agencies alone; in fact, some have despaired in the belief that it is too great to be solved by society. It is human nature to cover up our own frailties by pointing out the weaknesses of others. We often attempt to justify our own position and assuage our stricken conscience by asserting that the fault and the responsibility lies with someone else. This is especially true of the crime problem. The public, through individuals, organizations and the press blames police inefficiency for this greatest of all ills, when its obvious duty is to support the efforts of law enforcement bodies in their endeavor to reduce crime and the attendant catastrophes.

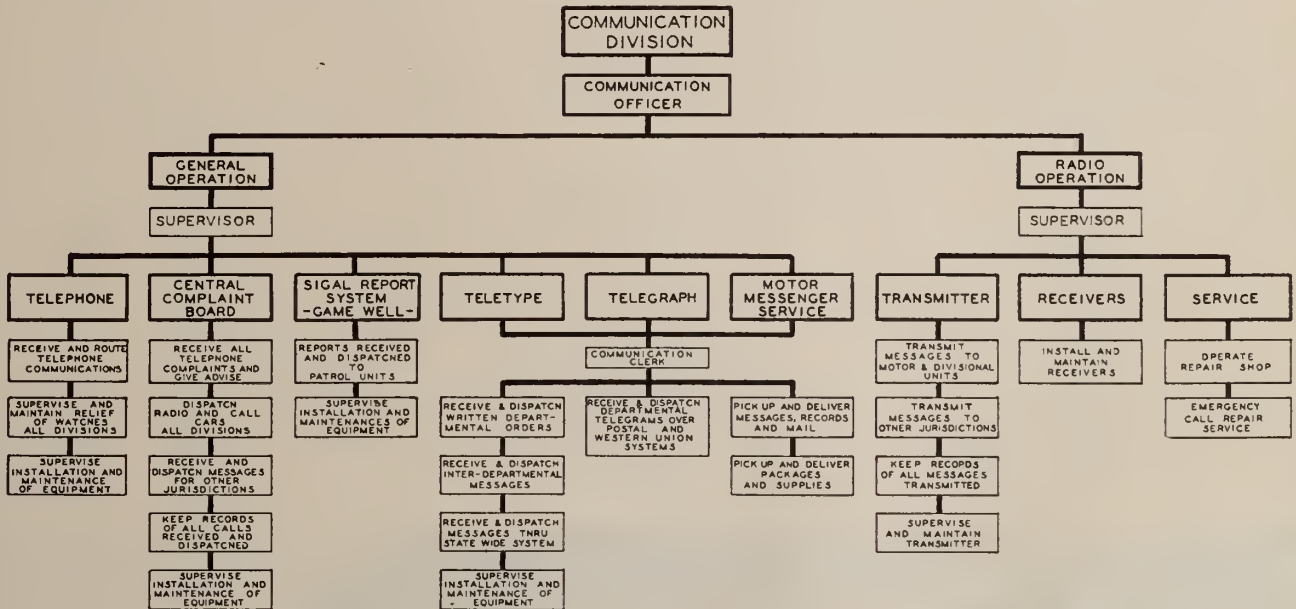

Lack of co-operation from the individual in this connection arises from two sources: the first is apathy, the direct result of an education which failed to stress the responsibilities of citizenship. The other is cowardice, wherein information and evidence is withheld from the proper authorities. This form of cowardice is the most un-American trait anyone can possess. We teach sacredness of American Freedom, but it is utterly impossible to reconcile these two words—"cowardice" and "freedom." America, the land of the free and the home of the brave, is fast becoming the land of crime and the home of the crook. The public refuses to give up certain so-called freedom by rejecting such scientific measures as universal fingerprinting and eugenics, thus giving license not only to the criminal but to posterity. Through this fallacy it subjects itself to the capricious will of the vicious gangster for the sake of that intangible something which is popularly termed "freedom."

In closing, let us consider one avenue by which we may approach the solution. The criminal element is essentially misguided youth. Statistics everywhere will bear out this statement. We realize that punishment which has heretofore been the chief means for preventing crime, is at best only defensive crime prevention. We need offensive crime prevention, and that lies in attacking the source. Why not utilize the schools which have a steady contact with the child over a long period of time during those plastic years when indelible impressions are most easily recorded? Let our educators include a definite citizenship program as a part of the school curriculum and let the church and home do its share in fostering and encouraging the higher ideals of this program. Certainly there is no subject more important than "how to live." Let it teach the ethics of life—the practical application of the Golden Rule—that service is the gauge of human happiness; let it be illustrated by the lives and deeds of honest men; let it deal with the crook as history deals with the traitor; let it glory the reward of honor in the way that history preserves and reverences patriotism; let it maintain a code of morals similar to a code of laws. Thus the schools, the very backbone of our civilization, could deal the death blow to the present crime situation and the law enforcement agencies could follow up with the "coup de grace."

POLICE DEPARTMENT

COMMUNICATION DIVISION

In the past year all mechanical means of communication have been co-ordinated with the establishment of a central complaint board through which all telephone calls are received. The outstanding feature of this system is that officers placed on this board are required to have at least five years police experience. This eliminates any confusion as to the correct police procedure in assigning the complaints. The citizen once contacting the police department is not transferred from place to place, but is given immediate service, either by advice, a radio or call car dispatched or being referred to the police division concerned.

In the 12 month period during which 133,000 calls were dispatched as a result of calls from citizens; in receiving and dispatching this number of calls probably ten times that number of citizens were contacted, and less than twenty complaints were received relative to the service or the attitude of the officers on the complaint board.

The teletype system is centralized, and divisional inter-communication by teletype has been established, and is used to a great extent for the centralized booking of prisoners.

The state-wide teletype communication has been inaugurated, reaching from the southern to the northern and eastern to western boundaries of the state, and places intervening, covering the main highways.

Teletype communication has been established with the Sheriff's Department and nine sub-stations located on the nine principal highways of the county.

Postal Telegraph and Western Union Telegraph Simplex tape machines have been installed, eliminating the necessity of messenger service in the dispatching and receiving of telegrams.

The Gamewell system is utilized as in the past, for the hourly call-in system of police officers in the field, and is also used for receiving dispositions on calls by radio patrol cars.

Now in service are 80 radio equipped cars, 57 in regular patrol service 24 hours a day, and the rest are used by detective units and executive officers of the department.

Radio maintenance has been established by the employment of four radio utility men, and the acquisition of a service car equipped with all of the necessary instruments and materials for servicing radio patrol cars in the field. This system is in effect 24 hours a day, and has reduced to a minimum the necessity of placing cars out of service by reason of radio trouble.

Sufficient B battery eliminators are ordered to equip all radios, which will relieve the necessity of constantly changing batteries, and will keep the receivers at 180 volts, par efficiency.

The antenna system has been improved by the establishment of a serviceable ground and the adoption of a marconi type of antenna. Under this method a strong ground wave is laid down and dead spots have been practically eliminated in the area we desire to cover.

In this first year of radio patrol service great results have been accomplished and the Los Angeles Police Department has found with a limited amount of personnel and a vast area to control that the radio system of patrol has proved indispensable.

BURGLARY—Burglary is charged whenever victims report someone has entered a building, railway car, etc., (except where the suspected person has a right to enter), and has taken something of value. Attempt burglary is charged where entry is unsuccessful or where nothing of value was taken.

ROBBERY—Robbery is charged whenever any article has been taken from the person or from the presence of the person by fear or violence, except where the violence was to the article and not to the person. (Purse snatching).

GRAND THEFT—Grand Theft is charged on the taking of any article valued at over $200, without the knowledge of the owner, but without burglarious entry. Certain livestock, without regard to value, is also included in the requirements of Grand Theft.

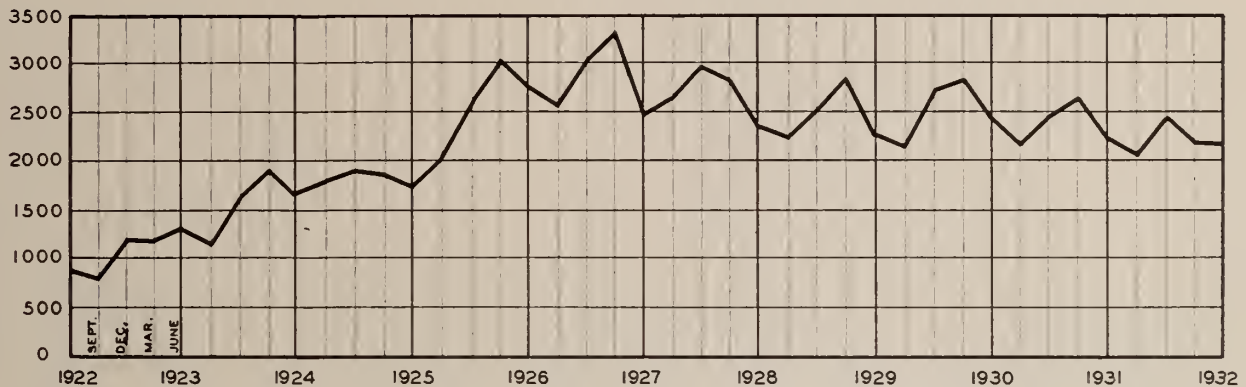

PETTY THEFT—Petty Theft includes the taking of articles (except specified livestock) having a value of $200 or less.

THEFT FROM THE PERSON—Theft from the Person is charged when any article is taken from the clothing or person, without the knowledge of the person; or with his knowledge if taken by surprise and not by violence to the person. (Purse snatching).

AUTO THEFT—Auto theft is charged whenever any motor vehicle is taken unlawfully except in a Burglary or Robbery. In those cases the value of the car is considered in the value of property taken. No time lapse is considered.

AUTO RECOVERY—Auto Recovery is credited whenever the identifiable portions of the car (or the car intact) has been returned to the owner or his agent, regardless of the agency through which recovery has been made.

Officers Receiving Instructions for the Policing of the Olympic Games

POLICING THE XTH OLYMPIAD

Had it not been for every Los Angeles policeman donating extra hours of service to the City during the Olympic Games, the actual cost to man the stadium and its environs would have been $127,008 and to man the remainder of the city for overtime, $84,704, making a grand total of $211,812, which represents 18,935 extra hours our officers worked.

As early as three months prior to the actual start of the Games, Chief R. E. Steckel and his aides were well into arrangements for policing the events. The work was segregated under three main heads with a police executive in charge of each. Olympic Police Headquarters were established at the Stadium from where all orders were issued to the 800 men detailed to the area designated as the "Olympic area", which covered all territory lying between Vernon Avenue and Jefferson Street and Western Avenue and Main Street.

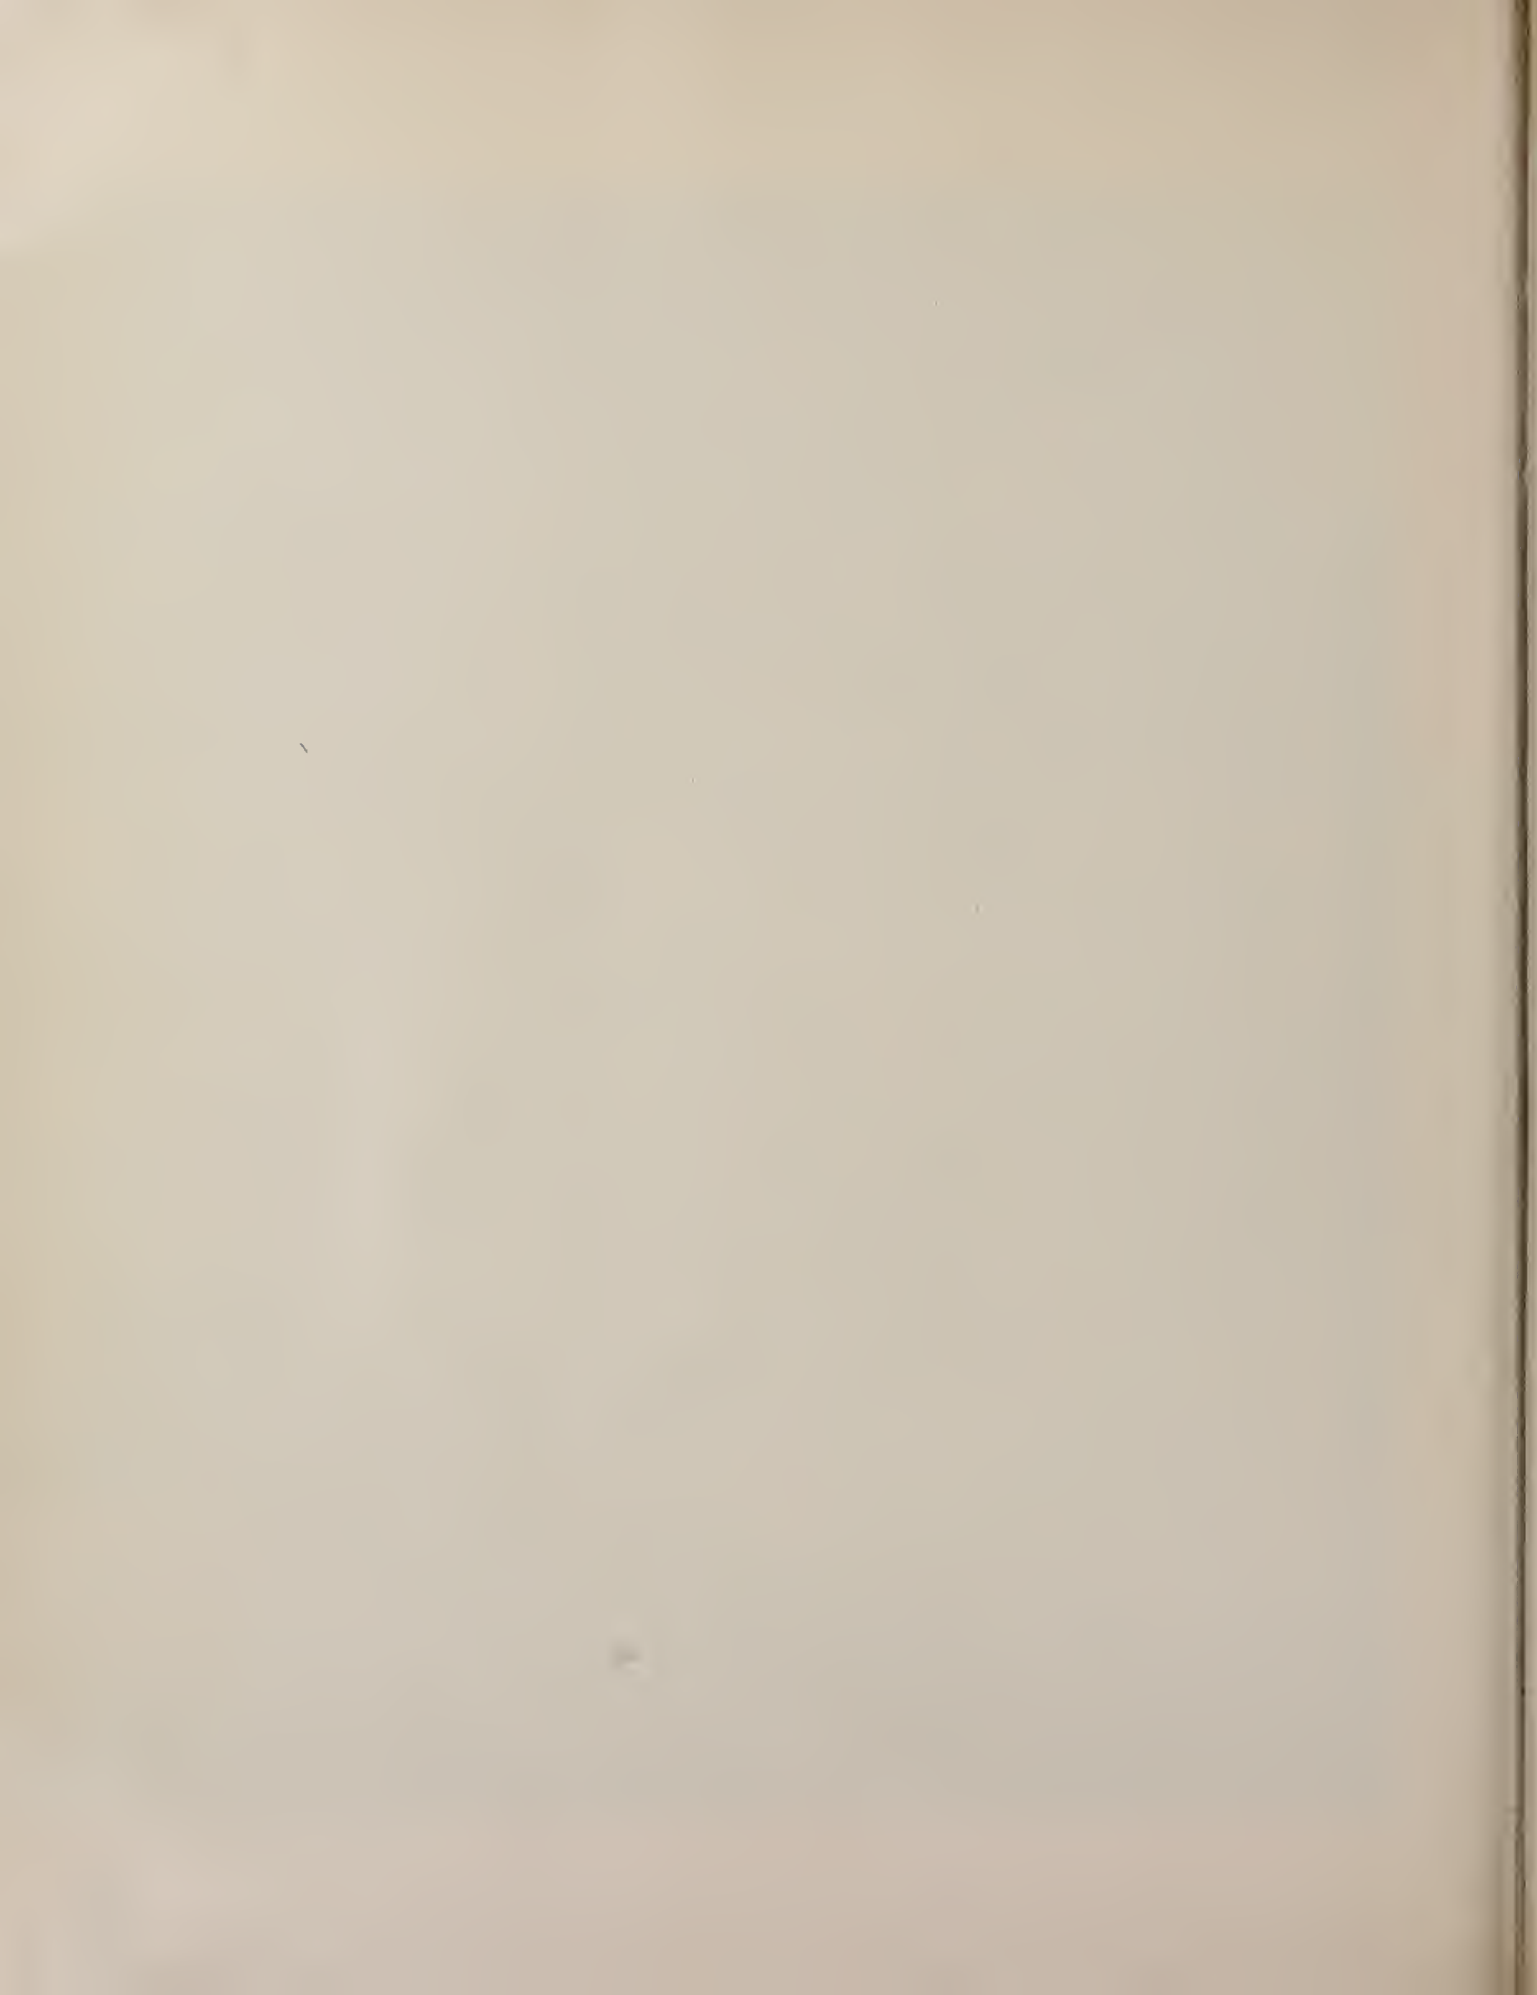

The Pickpocket Detail and the Traffic Division both rendered valuable assistance, evidenced in the many commendations received.

Crimes in the vicinity of the Coliseum during the Games included: 2 robberies, 8 burglaries, 39 thefts and 10 auto thefts. This record is surprising when one stops to consider that the entire city during the same period had 358 auto thefts and 507 thefts.

But 30 accidents resulted from automobiles, with no deaths therefrom. This is a record that will probably stand for all times and proves conclusively that every policeman on the Olympic Detail was functioning 100 percent.

Opening Ceremonies of the Xth Olympiad, Los Angeles, Calif.
